Baggage & other fees

Here you can find out everything you need to know about carry-on baggage, your free baggage allowance and special baggage on your Lufthansa flights.

International travel

Fares

The fare to be paid covers the cost of transporting you from the airport at the actual place of departure to the airport at the actual final destination. It is calculated in accordance with the tariff which is applicable on the day you book your ticket for the flight dates and itinerary shown on your ticket. If you alter your route, this may have an impact on the fare you pay. The fare is recalculated on the basis of the actual route taken and, if applicable, the difference subsequently charged. Your fare does not include ground transport between airports or between airports and city centers.

Taxes, fees and carrier charges

Applicable taxes, fees and carrier charges imposed by the airline, government or other authority, or by the operator of an airport, shall be payable by you. At the time you purchase your ticket, you will be advised of taxes, fees and carrier charges not included in the fare, most of which will normally be shown separately on the ticket.

Reservation Service Fees

Customers who make a reservation through lufthansa.com may cancel their reservation without penalty up to 24 hours after the reservation is made, if the reservation was made seven days or more prior to the flight's departure. Lufthansa will allow customers to hold a reservation made directly with Lufthansa's telephone reservation center without payment for up to 24 hours, if the reservation was made seven days or more prior to the flight's departure.

- Online (lufthansa.com) - No fee

- Online (lufthansa.com) for flights originating outside the U.S. - 15 EUR fee

- Via phone (Lufthansa Call Center) - $20 ticket service fee

- At the airport - $20 ticket service fee

Free baggage rules on Lufthansa \(per bag/ each way\)

On all Lufthansa-operated flights

the following basic rules apply to free baggage

Excess baggage regulations and flat fees (per bag/ each way)

For all tickets a maximum travel weight of 32 kg per item of baggage applies

, irrespective of service class. Items of baggage which exceed these weights will not be accepted as travel baggage. They can be sent by air cargo at air cargo rates.

For Lufthansa guests fees* apply if their checked baggage meets the allowed pieces but possibly exceeds in weight and/or dimension:

More info on excess baggage can be found here

The free baggage allowance for children under two years of age is one piece of baggage weighing up to 23 kg and one folding pushchair.

* Please note that in a number of countries a service charge may be incurred, in addition to the flat fee, for checking in excess baggage.

Exceptions to free baggage allowance regulations

For Lufthansa Economy Class passengers, on certain routes or with particular products, there are separate free baggage allowances with regard to the number of baggage items, and in some cases the weight.

Special free baggage regulations for Economy Class

Special baggage rules for travel to/from or across the USA

Under a consumer protection law issued by the US Department of Transportation, the following baggage rules apply to flights to/from or across the USA:

Consistent baggage rules apply to all parts of a journey to/from or across the USA. These include the free baggage allowance, the dimensions and weight of each of your bags, the level of any charges that may be incurred and hand luggage regulations.

The baggage rules set by the airline which is listed first on the ticket are those that usually apply here. If Lufthansa is listed on the first flight segment of your ticket, then Lufthansa's baggage regulations will apply to your entire journey* - both your outbound and your return flight.

However, any airline which is listed as the first carrier on the ticket is at liberty to transfer the baggage rule stipulation to another airline in the itinerary (the so-called 'Most Significant Carrier').

In such a case that other airline's rules would then apply to the entire journey.

Lufthansa therefore cannot guarantee that, for a Lufthansa-issued ticket, the Lufthansa baggage rules will always apply in every case. Other airlines often have baggage rules which differ from those of Lufthansa.

For details of the free baggage allowance applying to your individual flight, please see your ticket and the e-mail confirmation which you receive from Lufthansa.

*Hand luggage rules may vary due to local laws.

Lufthansa FlyNet®

Deutsche Telekom offers you three individual tariffs for using the Internet service. Payment is possible by all major credit cards. It is also possible to pay using PayPal. Miles & More members can also redeem award miles to settle their bill.

1 hour: 9.00 euros or 3,500 miles

4 hours: 14.00 euros or 4,500 miles

Full flight (up to 24 hours): 17.00 euros or 5,500 miles

The full flight tariff (up to 24 hours) can be used in any Lufthansa aircraft fitted with FlyNet® while it remains valid. Please be aware that all tariffs are based on the so-called 'parking meter principle'.

This means that your HotSpot pass Sky has a fixed duration which starts when you first log on and which cannot be extended by intermittently logging off the Internet.

Alternatively, if you are a customer of Deutsche Telekom or one of its affiliated roaming partners, you can also log on easily and conveniently with your access data, which you will need to request before the start of your journey. Your FlyNet® Internet use will then be charged in line with your service provider's tariff. Please bear in mind that use on board the aircraft is billed as 'international roaming' and is therefore not necessarily included in the flat rate.

With the sole exception of flights over China: the system switches off automatically when the aircraft enters Chinese airspace and switches on again after leaving it.

Sky Phone - telephone on board

With our Sky Phone you can make phone calls during a long-haul flight.

The fee for use is USD 9.95/minute.

The Sky Phone is located between Business and Economy Class. Its technology was developed especially for phoning from Airbus A340 and Boeing B747 aircraft types.

The charges for your calls will be billed comfortably via your credit card.

Miles & More: Award reservation change/cancel fee

You can redeposit miles from fully unused award tickets within 1 year from the date of issue once the reservation is cancelled.

A charge of 50 EUR or 70 CHF/ USD 60 is payable for rebooking or cancelling a flight award. This amount may vary or be waived for certain flight awards. Only the date and time of a booking can be changed.

It is not possible to change routes. A flight award once issued is non-transferable. The sale, exchange or offer for auction of award documents is not permitted. Miles from different mileage accounts cannot be transferred or combined.

Flight awards can also be given without payment to friends and relatives without your having to accompany them on the flight. Flight awards passed on to third parties must be booked by you in person. The relevant number of miles will be debited from your mileage account.

We have special bassinets available for you on our entire long-haul fleet: they are perfectly suited to babies under 11 kg in weight and under 67 cm in length. Night flights are especially suitable for journeys with small children because children can then maintain their usual sleep pattern and get some rest.
